Monday morning, about the same hour, the house of V. Evans, about three miles from Troy, was burned. Here,

W. R. Harpater, in White Clout, was discovered to be only fire. The household goods and furniture were tumbled out and considerably damaged as it was thought useless to try to save the building. This being accomplished, and nothing else to do, all hands turned in and put out the fire, but a prehased after the analysis of the business. In the State elses of the country, Mr. S. has had a long experience in the business. In this County, and has a thorough knowledge of all the variope running through the ceiling, coming spart above.

An hour or two later, the residence of W. H. Fornersok

DECIDED.-Judge Hubbard has decided the Troy bond ase adversely to the City. A brief statement of the case The City of Troy voted $50,000 of bonds in aid of the Atchison and Nebraska Railroad, upon certain ons. When the Company sold out to Joy, they made compromise with Troy, agreeing to release the $50,000 of not to pay the money, denying the legality of the whole transaction, and brought suit for the recovery of the por-tion of the amount already paid. Judge Hubbard granted the case could be heard. It was heard and week, and decided this week, as above stated. The case will doubtless now go to the Supreme Court. But in the railroad bond cases that have heretofore gone up from various parts of the State, the Court has almost uniformly dedided that the bonds must be paid. It runs in our marrow that Troy will GORBLED AT LAST .- We learn that D. A. McKinney, Inice Agent, well known hereabouts, went through ison, a few days ago, in custody of an officer, and in irons. He was caught in one of the Counties west of here An agent of the Company which he represented, had been in pursuit of him for some weeks, but he had succeeded in cluding him. McKinney had been taking risks at lower where he could not get money, and had then sold the notes for whatever he could get, and appropriated the money to his own use. We are told that the penalty of his off-nec is the penitentiary. McKinney seems to be a scoundrel by nature; but he has come to grief at last, notwithstanding his fancied sharpness. He was in business here, about a year ago, and swindled his creditors. He proflessed peniyear ago, and got into a good business again, but could not re-shat his natural bent. The proprietors of the Georg, having the experience of a quarter of a century in newspaper publishing in the city of St. Louis, feel that they know what a newspaper should be in order to suit the varied tastes of the people of the Mississippi Valley. They will labor night and day to produce a first-class journal, containing the news of each day from every part of the habitable world, and such other information from every quarter, at home or abroad, as will interest the whole population of the Western States. They will endeavor to make the Gioost a welcome visitor in the banking house, the counting-rosm, the merchanto's store, the work-shop, and the manufactory, and a fire-side companion for the farmer, machanic, laborer, stock-raiser, fruit-grower, miner, in fact for everybody that can read.

The Gioux will continue to advocate the doctrines of the Great Republican Party, which has just achieved so great a triumph over the conglomerate adds-and-ends party in the Nation. In commercial, financial, agricultural, mineral, and all other interests, the Gioost will constantly be found taking a leading position on each question as it comes up.
